MRS. ALICE GRESHAM DODD, mother of first American soldier killed in France, who gives entire credit for recovery of her health to the well-known medicine, Tanlac.

The following remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs.
Alice Gresham Dodd, the mother of Corporal Jas. B. Gresham, who was the first American soldier killed in France. The statement was made at the Gresham Memorial Home, which was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana as an evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to his country by her son.

The shock of her son's death resulted in a serious breakdown in Mrs. Dodd's health, but every one will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. Mrs. Dodd gives the entire credit for her recovery to the celebrated medicine, Tanlac.

She said: "After my dear boy's death I had a general breakdown in health. At first it was just indigestion. My food would upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully.
I also had rheumatism with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms and at times I would suffer greatly, and my joints would become swollen and stiff. I was hardly able to do but very little about the house and at times could not even cook a meal.
I became very nervous and restless and at night would lie awake for hours.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac. I am glad I did, for it proved to be the best medicine I have ever taken. It soon gave me a splendid appetite and relieved me entirely of indigestion. My rheumatism also disappeared and I am now able to do my housework with the greatest ease. My nerves are steady and strong. I sleep well at night and my health is better than in years. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Paris at the People's Pharmacy. (adv)

THE NEW CABINET

The new Cabinet does not differ much from former selections made by new Presidents, because it contains perhaps two wise statesmen who are regarded as equal to the great tasks before them. Then there are personal friends who have to be rewarded, and neither prophets nor sons of prophets can tell what their finish will be. Next in order are two or three clever, astute politicians, and the usual "dark horses." When Woodrow Wilson first picked his Cabinet the newspapers of his party printed laudatory stories which read just like those that are printed to-day about the Cabinet of President Harding. But a strictly candid, unbiased opinion, would have to be content with concluding that the new Cabinet gives splendid promise for the best results, with the qualification that as a whole the personnel may reveal in time, some serious flaws. Personally the men are all well known to Washington, and they will have the help and support of all officials and people of any importance.

INCOME TAX MUST BE IN BY MARCH 15.

That portion of the public that must make income tax returns has one week from to-day in which to file returns, and pay the first installment where payment is required, without being subject to penalties for delinquency.

M. C. Bane, acting chief in charge of the Lexington division, reports that taxpayers are coming in fairly rapidly to make out returns, but urges that every one who possibly can make returns the coming week as there are a great many taxpayers who have been unavoidably delayed in making out returns and a big rush is expected March 15, the last day returns may be made without liability to penalty, he said.

Attention is also called to the fact that every unmarried person with an income of $1,000 per year or more is required to file a return, even though exemptions make it unnecessary to pay any tax.

Whence "Pig Iron."

Pig iron is a phrase which has nothing to do with swine. When iron is melted it runs off into a channel called a sow and the lateral branches are called pigs; therefore when the iron cools it is called pig iron. Now the word sow is from the Saxon "sawan" to scatter; obviously having a sow for the main, or parent channel it didn't require very much wit to name the grooves little pigs, or the product pig iron.

AID BREEDING OF REINDEERS

United States Plans to Make Animal Important Factor in Meat Industry.

TRY TO DOUBLE HIS WEIGHT

Alaska Has 200,000 Reindeer With Range for Several Millions—Multiply From Original Importation of 1,280 in 28 Years.

Washington.—Santa Claus' reindeer have promise of becoming a factor in the meat supply of this country as they are in Scandinavia, where reindeer meat last sold at a higher price than beef or mutton. The government is going to aid in putting the infant industry of Alaska on its feet by experiments in increasing the reindeer's weight to about double the present average by scientifically breeding them, locating ranges and studying the animal's diseases, parasites and grazing problems. Provision is made in the agricultural appropriation bill of this year for that purpose.

Alaska Has 200,000 Reindeer.

Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the biological survey, in urging the appropriation, told congress there are about 200,000 reindeer in Alaska, of which about three-fourths belong to the natives and one-fourth to the government and to white owners who have started a commercial industry in growing reindeer for meat. These reindeer multiplied from an original importation of 1,280 animals made 28 years ago for the benefit of the Eskimos.

"People have asked me what the future of the industry is likely to be," said Dr. Nelson. "I have replied by asking them the question: 'If 1,280 reindeer in 28 years produced the present 200,000 animals, what is likely to be the increase from 200,000 animals in the next 28 years?' The increase is almost unbelievable. In other words, the industry, properly handled, should have a great future.

"The Alaskan firm which has started the industry exported 1,600 head to Seattle last year. The firm has established four small cold storage plants at points on the Alaskan coast where the reindeer can readily be driven down for slaughter to be refrigerated and loaded for shipment.

"I believe Alaska contains available range to maintain from four to five million of reindeer. The estimate has been made that it would take care of 10,000,000, but I think that is too high.

"Five million reindeer would give an average output of about 1,250,000 reindeer a year. Dressed for market an animal now averages 150 pounds.
Taking this weight and the present value of reindeer meat, the fully developed reindeer industry in Alaska should yield approximately $43,000,000 a year. Reindeer have been in Alaska 28 years and their increase under crude methods of handling has been almost startling. Under proper scientific supervision and modern methods the industry should develop very rapidly.

May Use Caribou for Breeding.

"There are big herds of wild caribou about the Mount McKinley region, some bulls of which dress up to about 400 pounds. We plan to capture some bulls of this stock and use them with an experimental herd of reindeer cows for the purpose of building up a higher grade of reindeer, having greater weight and increased hardiness. I believe it will be practicable in less than ten years to have the reindeer of Alaska running from 250 to 300 pounds to the carcass, instead of 150 pounds as at present.

"The increased weight would increase the value of the fully developed Alaska reindeer industry enough to bring the potential output around $60-000,000 at present value. That is more than the fisheries of Alaska produce.

"Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, was here recently. He is interested in the lease granted by the Canadian government for a great area for reindeer grazing in Baffin's bay region. He informed me that in the Scandinavian countries of Europe about 200,000 reindeer are killed for meat each year.

"We are talking about helping to build up Alaska, and here is one thing that is right in sight today, a fine, big industry, and I do not know of any other like it in the immediate future.
The future looks so promising that the expenditure which we contemplate is trifling compared with what the outcome is likely to be."

His Purse Returned.

New Albany, Ind.—Dr. John F.
Weathers of this city has recovered a purse containing $21 in money and his Southern Railway pass as surgeon for the company, which he lost in a store Thanksgiving evening. When he went to his garage the next morning he found the purse, with the contents intact, on a post near the door, where it evidently had been left by some conscience-stricken person.

Finds Pearl in Oyster.

Omaha, Neb.—A pearl, said by Omaha gem experts to be worth a large sum, was found in an oyster by Sam Wickline, while opening oysters and clams at his oyster bar. Wickline has been opening oysters and clams there for the last three years and estimates his labors at more than 100,000 of the bivalves.

Soap and Candles of Human Fat.
Among soap anomalies may be mentioned human fat toilet soap, known over continental Europe the past century or more and indicated by some medicos as a superior emollient. This sounds callous, but the art of soap making is not particularly noted for fine sentiment. The fat stock was obtained from cadavers of hospital and morgue derelicts and tried out like any other fat. Candles for special purposes have also been made from human fat.—Scientific American.
